Encore chief in top 100 technocrats league

BANGALORE: Bangalore-based technology company. Encore Software, has announced that Vinay Deshpande has been selected by the World Economic Forum as one in the top 100 technology pioneers for the year 2001. Stepping into this league, he joins an elite group of high-technology individuals who are pioneering the cause of technological development in the world today.

The tech pioneers programme of the World Economic Forum is a new initiative. The first group met in January during a special programme at the Annual Meeting 2000 in Davos. Technology partners are engaged in the most innovative technology areas that drive the new economy.

Deshpande will join the special tech pioneers programme to take place on the occasion of the World Economic Forum's annual meeting in Davos during January 2001. "Being selected as one the forum's 100 technology pioneers is a great news which has come as a surprise, more than the recognition, the opportunity to network with other fellow tech pioneers is what I am looking forward to," Deshpande said.
